

Chapter 11

Let the show begin

So this was it , I got the acting job and I was let down again not only was arria drawing my bank account but rlc needed me to change my flight again with my money to a ticket that didn't have me return to Washington but Las vegas. I'm not using real names just in case. Now I started talking to g and she is nice and she helped set up my meeting with m, m and me meet at Phenix bar where I worked with Derek sometimes and me and one main trans queen tried to have sex but I couldn't get it up , I thought I had ED after my fails with Wendy and her and went to the sex shop you see me in on the show before filming to buy pills that didn't work, I just can't with Wendy. Now m is great and ready to film and I can't wait to leave my TJ maxx cult forever and find a way to get faith in Washington. But I'm told my new identity is in moving to the Philippines before my ex wife's prison sentence is over , which is illegal and I will go to jail, but it's a TV show so let's do it and have fun not being homeless for at least a month in the Philippines. We talk about filming locations and people, I'm not to thrilled I'm now going to be known as this drag guy but understand it's allure to TV? Even though I hadn't watched TV since I lived with my mom in high school and had never seen the show. But fake it till they help faith is all I cared about. Soon, not sure the exact time lapse but I filmed me spinning on Fremont Street with a large shoe behind me, then they rigged my scooter for action shots and we filmed at Derek's house... maybe that's the order. That was awkward I didn't talk to these people about my personal life other than I'm not a human because I pay child support, they had no idea who faith was technically I didn't either , but I did this odd video call you see on the show, this was are second call I think ever, we had 1 before to make sure we were real. We talked about how much fun it will be for her to come to America and her getting to work hard for our Philippine family . Then m cut us short and explained my new angle that I'm moving there and then made it about how I sleep around for housing to combat my ex wife's theft all because I lost housing because the show changed my plane ticket and the librarians dad can't pay bills. Then a lot of script fills into are mouths and then we cut and that was a day. Maybe . But I was told to meet some guy in a Walmart parking lot to get a wedding ring because arria never gave mine back.

The next filming day was at a wonderful Philippines grocery store called 2 if by the sea. This phillipna and white couple defeated there inner demons and pulled of the impossible to be together, and I was there to talk about my trip and plans, of course I still wasn't accepting this move to the Philippines to be arrested plan yet , so we start with absolute fairy tales that I'm getting her to America despite evil. I know she's from davao because of how she says some of her words and everyone was impressed for sure. I was a very nice tear filled morning fallowed by filming at the librarians co rented house with drug addicts as roommates who later steal a ring. We unload the food from the Asian market and have a free lunch. Then went to this sex shop where me and the librarian kept saying not approved things by tlc, no fisting, no strapp on? No alot of things and it took so long and I was still fighting m really hard on fake lines and at the end rlc paid for the corset and made it look like the librarian did, and faith wears a shaper not a corset so it was a weird gift I kept telling them.

Then I'm told we have work out, I'm ready they during in 2 hot plates from Walmart and I'm like ok cool , then I'm told by the way you need to show you cooking and we don't have time so cook it at the same time, I'm told I'll get the next "big Ed" whatever that meant. I now start to sink into just doing whatever nonsense they want, clearly it's all for tv and I hope faith is as cool as playing an actress. So I cook , workout and eat. Then we went directly to the drag show part of the show, it's a busy night and I'm trying to keep up with m and Derek. I punched a chunk of the wall off at some point. I also ran into Frenchie the girl who did that interview with that got me in trouble for talking as well as I could in 1 sitting just to find out I'm way off from their intended version of this character. But I got to go down on her and it was nice, I thought I'll never sleep with anyone again other than faith after this week so why not . Then we had this art deco retro air b and b we rented for those interview shots where I talk at a camera for 8 hour? Shifts I'm sure it was longer but the first day was setting up and they needed me for color and lighting , so I was naked swimming in the pool because they didn't tell me to bring a swimsuit. And we talked for hours about all kinds of junk that got all cut up and taken out. Like child support, Wendy, bringing faith to America, a lot of my past and my absolute need to do good and fight for justice. I must repent for the wicked deeds my ex wife has committed. That was 2 days I think then actual Halloween where I got Gonorrhea from really good ,I'll never see you again sex from Alexa at approximately 1am November 1st , the same day as my flight, I got like 0 sleep and started filming with this new lady not m, she was r , m was in the Philippines with faith filming the part with her in the hotel and that time with her friends. We went to this laundromat and I did laundry for the first time there, I was changing into the clothes for my next scene when this homeless lady was talking to me , I was naked outside next to a van, then we get to the house to film the ring and girlfriend test scene but they got me this tarp to put over my scooter and wanted this super emotional scene where I'm basically in tears to leave my scooter, I'm like I'm never coming back to Vegas ill be fine , it doesn't matter and r was not happy , then we go inside to do the ring scene and I was so against this scene with there fake cheesy ring , we kept laughing and laughing and r is all in a huff because it's a serious scene lol, then the fake girlfriend test, in the past chapters during my time with the librarian in Oregon, new Mexico and Washington the librarian went on dates, I'd help her get ready often and after a couple bad dates I made a scoring sheet for her as a fun joke, this is where the girlfriend test came from. I made up those questions the day before and just slapped them on a paper hoping faith realizes it's rlc . So I packed, repacked, then repacked, then repacked my bag to get the lines right and we were rigged to go to the airport and I was exhausted yet ready for no more homelessness but not ready to face my mom next month. They talk to us using a radio planted in the car and feed lines and conversation topics so we can be edited later. We get out and r says ok go and I actually have no idea what I'm doing but they gave me an iPhone and a selfie stick. So here I am being a total weirdo with a camera but I totally made friends in that airport, this great lady from Taiwan and this white man who missed his flight. Then me and cameraman 2 s my brother but also 15+ hours of flight plus layovers and I can't sleep on a plane I learned. So I land and told to wait to see my new best friend m, I just have a backpack because I shipped everything I own to faith to use on this trip than after I would just have what I left at my mom's and she could give all my things away or try to sell them to help her family. The box was in the scene with me in the pink ruffles but they cut out my talk of charity and good will towards the love of my life, the Philippines as well as my new family. But there I was getting a Mike from c and I met b who did not like me but was me and faiths assistant, I never asked for anything. As well as faiths translation team and the Philippines ground team g , c and ? Crap I don't remember. I walk 10 times down a hall then around this corner , then across a street, faith is so beautiful and then we hugged as agreed, see chat log, and then we do it 10 more times I dodge traffic to rehug faith then they give us a fully camera ready taxi you think we flag down. I shower and change and faith is told to take me across the street to Paris restaurant where we have Paris and momie with soda. She seems good tell m says tell her to take the girlfriend test and we both look at m and I tell faith ok m needs you to take a test and she's very reluctant to do as m says for a while and I'm like oh no she can't act? I explain it's fake and we should forget it because I'm not trying to upset faith but m needs it and some translation happens then she answers a couple questions and we finally drop it, we do an interview and I don't know if any of it makes the cut. Before we went to the Philippines or I met m in person he asked me to make a list of things I wanted to do in the Philippines, out of 100 I think we did 0, but visit faiths family was on there I think 1. After all that I slept so well and adjusted to Philippines time without jet leg because of that no sleep flight maybe. The next day was the market but first this 46$ nonsense, yes my 40$ from Derek and 6$ from tips was my Halloween drag show take home, but the show had my money in holding from the 3rd planet ticket mishap 1,800$ and I sent faith about 6 to 7 thousand and my TJ Maxx vacation pay was on the way. So yes I had 46$ in my wallet to exchange for pesos with faith at a counter in a hotel. I also get the box from faith with all my things I'm going to use for my trip as well as what I'll be giving away while I'm there to everyone. But I don't dress myself m dresses me everyday I learn.

We are told to get in a van after I get the pesos and they tell faith to tell me we are going to quiapo market. I walk there later. It's not too far. But we are told m directly with translation that we are to buy something and they will give us pesos so we have things to film just in case they don't like what we buy the first time. So I tell faith listen if they pay for it all and we are heat, what does your mom need? Or Mama ding, coworkers or even the nice homeless lady outside your building who was still there when I returned a year later. I almost begged faith to buy things for others and I was denied all acts of charity from her as she was the star and in charge of this shopping spree, that now is cut up to sound like I'm pushing her to just spend all the money . But I did get knock off Crocs that broke shortly after my return to America. We also have a scene cut from the show where faith gets her first tarot card reading , I've taught my ex's how to do this and explained how the lady is doing it wrong and the history of reading cards

Then even though they had us buy food we had lunch and then met Mama ding. This was home , in security as 102 I also basically lived in a space just like Mama ding house, I was star struck by the idea it's perfectly ok to live like this and not have some American corporate government asshole telling you it's not legal. The freedom and beauty of this moment, just to have m absolutely destroy the moment. We start with basic conversation about faith coming to America and then of course ,oh yeah that's not rlc, so I start the narrative and Mama ding like wait what? Then I go into how my ex wife steals and we need the show to help get faith a job overseas and on and on and then the fact that I'm homeless pops in there, but it all comes back to faith who talks about her deep religious beliefs and love for Mama ding , but when I returned they were not friends anymore . We left and I had hoped they both understood me vs m and what the plan actually is. But I have no way of talking to Mama ding , me and faith spoke very little about much of anything. That was probably the end of that day.... ?

Ok now I wake up early and stay naked with my door wide open for me to dress me. I get a text from Alexa and I have Gonorrhea and based on everything so far I can't just walk away to get that treated I'm owed under contract by rlc, so I tell m and they tell me don't go get treatment tell we are ready, today you already have plans and keep a secret from faith for today, not my thing , I don't keep things from faith. But ok let's do this thing, now I really had no symptoms and all I was given is a link by m to read over and explain out loud, so I did and of course disruptive words are right up my alley so you got all of them . Then faith dressed too hot for words went with me to a dam we might have never heard of but faith explained later after talking to people this is close to where Mama ding was raised and we bought her a herb she doesn't see often in Manila. Then swam in a river , we are told we might do laundry in the river also but then I was told that horrible line "kissing energy" not even kinda was that the vide, I was so happy just to hold hands . So I say it , then I'm told way it again by m then 3rd, 4th, 5th time and she's looking to the translation team who say something a long the lines of STD like aids and it happens, that's a huge change in seriousness, facepalm in all , so now I'm trying to defend aids in the middle of nowhere when I don't have aids I have Gonorrhea 😊 and I am told to just keep saying it. Finally I can get in the van and this bad joke doesn't end with a like 2 hour car ride, then I'm told there's no 24 clinic in the Philippines who treats Gonorrhea and I have to wait till tomorrow, great, thanks and faith is pissed, but I'm thinking , faith was not a great actress with the test and did understand the talk at moma dings and refused to give to people at the market, maybe I should give someone else a try in the Philippines, I'm sure this air time could end up getting faith a boyfriend in America who isn't worthless because of his ex wife. If I'm going to help faith I need a plan better than this trash I'm doing now, so I asked and was told no added characters or substitutions to faith, I said ok. The next day I got that horrible orange shirt to wear , but the clinic was so much fun and a day with my main man c and m . I got a bunch of super cute nurses and stories to tell about my filming as well as testing the waters of a trans nurse named Lily just in case I do get the chance that faith breaks it off today and id make this about internal nurse awareness and rights for LGBT in the workplace because Lily has a really hard time. Lily took my email from the guest registration form and emailed me later on in my adventure. But we went back to the hotel after getting the pills for the mercury drug store, it's all over the Philippines. And I called the librarian who was like Lol to Gonorrhea, jokes on me for sure. That night we went to the park and had that super weird walk and talk with bananas and I'm told faith isn't understanding you and you don't communicate properly so that's when this weird accent started and it never really went away. But after a long talk of coaxed conversation by m we were back together if we broke up I don't really know but I got a second chance even though if you look back to our text logs she was 100% aware of the sex. This whole open relationship thing was also all part of rlc's plan I never really wanted it that all came from an idea where I marry someone in the Philippines to get them to America once they're in America they would work for the next 7 years and pay my half of the child support for their citizenship and then I could stay in the Philippines with faith this would all be part of that plan but because of my ex-wife this would have to be on the show in order for her to get citizenship using the help of someone who watches the show because I alone could never actually get someone to America. We have a day of shooting photos together, the first studio is a no go and we spend a lot of time going to another studio, g gets me and faith coffee, that's faith's favorite thing other than vaping. I didn't like the coffee and faith saw my face and we had a very nice time together taking photos all day, during this time we are asked to empty are pockets and hand all are things to g. This includes my passport. We return to the hotel after all of this. It was a no m day and all things said were real conversations between us about how faith is getting to America. And I really have Gonorrhea. The next day was airport to leyte and my passport was missing, they had no idea I had a back up passport but I at first thought maybe faith had it on her purse from yesterday because he took are things? But faith took this as an attack and said I'm always blaming her... I didn't blame her for anything. My backpack was filled with gifts from my box for her family and about 70$ in coins from America I would want to see them exchange, I always loved coins , in the Philippines they have all kinds. So it was a lot of different quarters . But when we landed my coins where gone and b had her lighter taken because you can't bring it on the plane , I made a joke about evil and cigarettes and that's when it was over for me and b. She was only team faith. The car ride was long and we talked for hours, we had never really chatted online or called / videoed so this was a first even if half was instigated by m. This is also when the joke of we are both bottoms happened this comes from a story that I had told RLC at one point there was a few times in Vegas where I wasn't top because I wasn't actually looking for sex but I know that they expected sex he kind of just take it and move on. Not that I won't let faith be top but I know she's not. We made it fans hotel where my toilet never flushed and there where no windows, it was a box , it was strange, they made a really big deal out of the 2 room thing again, I'm like it's ok your paying for the hotels anyways, let faith be faith but you see how that went. We waited till the next day we from here on out would always eat together. This is something I truly love about being a couple in real life, that simple time. We wake up and it's off to some island that me and Faith have never heard of, it was great Faith is perfect and we swim, Faith is told to tell me her backstory. I don't think I ever explain mine on tv. But this whole thing is about helping Faith and our family. Faith prevents me from climbing a tree and just out of shot there is trash all over. The lotion is some strange Russian brand of sunscreen, the camera lady is R. She's very nice. I broke a mic cord jumping off the boat when we landed, I'm sad I didn't get to do action packed things with Faith around, she's not action packed. We leave the island and walk the boardwalk talking about this future both real and RLC as the sun sets and we are off to fans. Every night M has me ask about sex and cohabitation. But I tell him fat chance, and I ask anyway. The next day is a market and Faith's family, I think I can get there without a GPS as of today. Now again this is all free and I'm again begging Faith to buy everything, a whole stall, her family deserves the world and we got wood, some squids and a broom and she got me a green hat. It's fine whatever makes her happy right? I still have a backpack full of fun things. We are off to see them, I'm hoping M doesn't detail it to hard day 1, and he didn't. There a world I envisioned for my ideal future literally in front of me, almost brought to tears at its perfection and Faith is at home here. We met her family. Oh yeah she dressed me for this scene. Her family is wonderful I had seen a photo of them before but only 1, we give the gifts then my gifts they cut out and the coins ☺, but later I see Bayha take coins from a shelf in the living room and when no one is looking I put most of my 46$ there for them for later. It's on camera and of course not used. I talk to her brothers and we almost go play basketball but dinner was ready and we had good food, now I was told by M to finish my plate to focus on talking because it was getting late, so I wolfed down the goodness and then he asked me to rate it and I'm like no what! ? So I go for an 8 because it's not artificially presented and it's not seasoned in a way I can identify what it is, it's just really good home cooked meal, later I'm told to reevaluate this dish and I end up giving a ridiculous response of "not pinilpinoie enough" but it was good. Then the night was over and back to the fans' hotel. The next day we are separated for a majority of the day, while they are filming with Faith and her sisters I go into the van and take half of all the drinks and snacks and give them to half's mom from the RLC coolers. I don't think they noticed, then we film me walking into a building a couple times and this is a pretend shop I have a video call with the librarian in later. I'm told a typhoon is coming and that we will leave Leyte early, so that day I got to buy Faith gifts at "pure gold" a staple Philippines store. I get her coffee and something else. Then the next day is that horrible make a bed scene where me and Faith stop and ask me why? And Faith isn't allowed to show me how to actually make the bed and she uses my razor to shave. We did some shots of us posing in her province and had the chicken intestines, now I slipped up and told Faith about the Thailand plan while we were on the island but at this table I go over all my half planned ideas other than this show is our only hope because of my deliberately evil ex wife. Ok we have Thailand marriage (it was Taiwan) at the time.

Put faith in a shipping container in China, get faith to Mexico and have her cross the border, I marry a phillipna named Ashley or edan for them to go to America and they help defeat my ex wife. Faith married the librarian, I stay illegally like RLC wanted, I get that online job of some kind? I Kerry her mom so her mom can file for her family to join her in America. We start applying to international visa jobs today. We run away to another country and just start a life there. I marry a lady named Pamela in Mexico and faith lives with us there, we wait see who else is on are season and reach out for assistance. Rlc said the only plan I get from now on is the mom plan and I'm like dang. Now faith heard the whole list with assistance with translation. But still acts as if she never heard the other plans. So we go to meet her family for karaoke and talk about these plans, I do look over at m and blast a couple other plans to them but I had to say them quick because m stopped me and I don't know how much they understood. Visayan was against me and I have no control over time. So what ever we are told we can only karaoke the songs they want due to copyright. The night was over and the next day was the airport, during which time they found my passport in manila. It hit me that all of the rooms have soap and shampoo, I gathered bottles to fill up and tried to tell them I had time to collect everyone's soap and shampoo so I could deliver it to Faith's family, but they told me no, it's too late .

The ride was great with all the forced conversation and not forced conversation. I had this solar panel power bank that just disappeared from the van and I was sad because it was a great gift for faith. The airplane trip was good and manila was still there. Because of the abrupt change in time because of a false typhoon claim we had an alone day, I tried to explain to faith RLC vs my plans and I don't think she understood so I just enjoyed what time we had, we went to the zoo and the mall , faith tells me there are hidden cameras and microphones all over the hotel and we can't do anything. This might have been RLC or just ? My gonorrhea treatment was over and I never really had symptoms. But rlc needed proof I didn't have a bacteria. So me and c went off to a couple different clinics who all claimed that's not how Gonorrhea works, you don't test if you took the pills. We finally got a place to test a swab of nothing for Gonorrhea and that was over half a day, but I got juice's from the store that day and tried all kinds of things. If I'm not mistaken I woke up early to go see fire dancers in the street and then we filmed? I don't know that day but later I will go to this event bingo thing I return to in 2025. The next day is the drag show night and I can't remember what we filmed during the day, if we did it's lost footage. But I'm fine with faking that I care about drag shows for 1 more night. So this club is dead so RLC paid people to go inside there. I met faiths friends and I was told because my pills are over I'll be drinking, I don't drink but for a contract controlled event I guess, now I get sick when I drink or I drink so much I don't feel sick so I drank like 12 wang wang a mixed drink that's 25$ USD per table and all you can drink. M tells me to explain this American drag behavior and so i'm given tip money to give out. Then they make faith dance around and because she hurt her foot walking on are day off together she's not as agile as she could be on stage, I don't find performing attractive at all so this is a turn off even if my script says otherwise. We have our first kiss and I speak with the queens about their art? I'm told to walk out with faith for a filmed exit, then we go back Inside to film a solo exit. I'm told to stand under a street light and I'm drunk and not sick , but I don't think I could get it up. So out come angel and dondon to talk to me without faith while faith is with ? Um that girl. The conversation is interrupted by a group of kids instructed to talk to me, one of them claims her friend is into me and I explain with far to much arm movement that I'm with faith the trans girl of my dreams and we will defeat evil. And this is when that hand touch happens when I'm thanking that girl for working up the courage to say hi and thankful to her, now this is the only time this has happened in the Philippines, no other person has ever said hi because they aren't allowed to get on camera like that so it was staged, but we talked about ef times for a while and Angel and dondon left to talk to faith and the kids were told to move on. I was told to get in the van and shortly after so did faith. We are told to wait to talk. Then when we finally where allowed to speak we were not close to that bar, I'm told I cheated again and I look out the window knowing I'm too far to walk back to the bar to find my savoir in a deaf tones t-shirt. So I'm just clucked but in my life story cheater Loren is normal, if I'm in a building or working that's cheating . Even if she's an Ann or Trista we can still beat my ex wife. But I again ask m if I can pick someone else ? And it's a no. Some days I felt like giving up for sure but evil must be stopped, I can be a good person 1 day just 7 years to go. I sleep and the next day I look over my contacts while I was there I have my 5 girls who are interested in not only acting but helping me find a way to redeem my soul through my love of the Philippines. So I buy coconuts as instructed and talk to faith on a roof. This is a very long circle with faith I think I also called the librarian and she's instructed to say all kinds of nonsense. So I finally realized it was that def tones girl and I'm like it's on film s was right there and my mic was still on. She didn't care and I told myself I could never convince Trista or Ann so whatever let her believe whatever, does she want us to help each other or not? Her family is most important, all this other stuff is getting in the way. But it's mostly RLC nonsense. We make up and my idea 2 is finally used, the tattoo . Faith had some wine and started , it was fun and she learned a skill, m even did a little bit of it. As long as we don't talk me and faith are great. We end the night. The next day is the lawyers office , where I spent so much time trying to explain child support and they insisted that I don't need money for a k1, they tried to shoot down Taiwan even though this is more filming so more money and faith is reluctant to get more money for her family . But if we spent too long in Taiwan I'd go to jail because of my evil ex wife and I'd be in love after lock up. We left the lawyer and I went to a magic shop to get this magic trick, I don't care for fake magic living my whole life in search of truth and this fake ring comes back into the show, I should have just lost it. But I'm explained some things and I'm off to this castle, that's great. I'm missing something for sure , the time isn't right because the castle was sun set and I don't think that hotel was the same day or it was? No idea anymore. It was a long month. So the staged picnic was great with a cheesy magic ring thing and faith and me both agreed it's a little late to do this after all this staged nonsense we were dragged thru to get here.

Nope the lawyer is the next day it's backwards. Ok but still we left the picnic and went to bed. The next day was lawyer, then a phone call with the librarian and then the hotel .

Now we checked in at some kind of desk not the front desk and m has me saying all kinds of sexual nonsense even though I didn't want to have faith like this , after all the stuff I put her thru for m and RLC I wanted to wait at this point. But me and faith don't communicate so ? No idea on her. The crew stage the room and me and faith are alone in the hotel cafeteria for dinner and I explained to her I will not make any kind of advice on her in that room, she's 100% in charge and all requests from m go through her. She acted like she fully understand my explanation. So we go to this hotel room. We just stood in the door way , I said ok faith let's? Whatever, ok? And m is trying to get her to do anything, I just shrugged. So he gets her to talk about the room from a hotel housekeeper's perspective and we end up looking out a window at manila bay. I'm just on stand by in my head to deflect all requests to faith and trying not to think about anything else. M points out the staged cake and I tell faith it looks like a perfectly staged cake, me and faith both dieted very hard for this role so cake was not her friend. We sit and I take my bite of the cake and as instructed I pass the cake to faith. We pure beer and I wait for faith to whatever we are doing , but nothing happens and m wants something I have a watch given to me by Wendy that I was trying not to fidget with and my phone was a no go but time passed , like 30 minutes maybe and I finished my beer and faith drank hers so I asked if she ever crushed cans as a kid for fun? She apparently did not but I crushed my can as a kids game. Then I'm asked if it's a game do you crush them other ways? How does it work , so I explained you crush it all kinds of ways , with your feet knees , elbows, more than 1 can at a time, with a bike or something else on your head , and then it was ok crush it on your head, faith was actually listening to this conversation because she did not like this idea because I'll get hurt , lol if I could do that at 10 I can do it at 33. So I crushed her can and she still just sat there she has the fork and cake and I have no more cans so I start to play with the butter knife , m and me are trying to progress the scene and 1 to 2 hours pass of just , hey faith what's up? I know she's stressed and I told her she's the boss so when she freaked out over the knife I thought that's her sign she's done with the scene and it's finally time for bed, m left and so did the crew, so I showered and went to bed. The next morning faith didn't text but she didn't always text anyways. I went to the Mall of Asia first thing in the morning and it was closed, my 1,800 can back and so did my TJ Maxx paycheck and vacation pay. I had some money but didn't want to spend it alone. But no one seemed right there. So I went back to the hotel, m tells me faith is actually mad and doesn't want to see me again so I say sure and I get a new hotel room down the street from here and contact Lily my nurse and we go to the mall, jollibee and I couldn't get it up for her so she topped, in the night she asked for water and that's how I got that cut on my face. Lily is so cute but if I can't get hard then I don't think it will work out, but I went with her to buy her family groceries before we said goodbye. So I've been contacted by Jean like the whole time i'm there and I've been telling her ok with faith only. But she again reached out and I said no more faith so she shows up and I can have sex with her. But we have a great date. Then the show contacted me about interviewing me again in a historical building in Manila and Jean was not invited so I said goodbye for today. I had also been talking to a girl named Saki about a business we could open together to build this LGBT community center and coffee shop. So we set up this shot in a historical building and I wasn't to wear a shirt because this building has no AC and they didn't want sweat on my shirt so I was shirtless all day, I returned to my hotel and waited to meet Saki to talk about this LGBT community center, they also talked about this idea with the fire dancers who wanted the same thing. We met, talked and it turned into sex she filmed the first half of sex, then we took a shower and started again. It was great for sure, but good sex isn't a relationship but a business to help stop my evil ex wife is great. She left and I had a connection I needed. The next day Jean wanted to come back and I said sure after filming that day. So I filmed the interview, but all the things we got for that scene were going to be just left so I tried to give them out in the streets shirtless, there was also a protest. I left and Saki wanted to meet again and I said if you want me and Jean? She said no and I get it Jean is a hand full. So me and Jean had a nice night out and the next morning I did more Loren spinning shots and Jean slept off a hangover, I bought Jean a new phone before she left. I kept talking to Saki about this business and kept building an idea. This whole time I had a go fund me for Faith's family but under RLC contract I can't use Faith's name so it was NDA (non disclosure agreement) Because no matter what this trip's goal was help Faith get exposure, a job overseas or a human boyfriend not a subhuman who's life is worthless because of an evil ex wife. I tell Jean goodbye on my last day and I get a text from M saying he wants 1 more scene with me and Faith, I say why? And I text Faith, she needs to do it under contract because she was refusing. But we finally did it and we had that Accord moment before I left forever, I talk about how because the show pushed my flight to November I'm stuck in Vegas after this ticket got messed up so bad, and that meant to avoid chronic ex wife created unlivable life without stability I'd be trying my luck with Wendy as a roommate. RLC does not like Wendy. I had 2 choices: get on that plane or live as a fugitive in the Philippines living with Jean. I play that moment over and over, forced to worship Satan because of the government or do what I can to start a life of peace, values and being a good person. I went to Vegas to do evil. All this horrible thoughts returned, TJ Maxx cult life, Satan and Wendy o no.